Are there any fees to send money using Zelle®?

Wells Fargo does not charge a fee to send or receive money with Zelle®. However, when using Zelle® on a mobile device, your mobile carrier's message and data rates may apply. Account fees (e.g., monthly service, overdraft, Small Business Account Analysis fees) may apply to Wells Fargo account(s) with which you use Zelle®. 1

How much money can I send and receive with Zelle®?

For your security, we limit the amount of money you can send with Zelle®. Your limit may vary based on your account and online banking history, your recipient, and the payment history of each recipient. We may adjust these limits at any time.

Customers with a Wells Fargo consumer account can send up to $3,500 in a rolling 24-hour period and up to $20,000 in a rolling 30-day period.

Business account holders can send up to $15,000 in a rolling 24-hour period and up to $60,000 in a rolling 30-day period.

Some customers with a consumer account may see higher limits in Zelle® from time to time, based on risk factors and payment history. If we let you send a single payment for more than $3,500, this payment will use up your 24-hour limit.

Your rolling daily limit is the maximum you can send over a period of time going back 24 hours. Your rolling 30-day limit is the maximum you can send over a period of time going back 30 days.

Receiving limits

We don't limit how much money you can receive with Zelle®. However, the sender may be subject to limits on how much they can send you, based on the policies of their bank or credit union.

For more information about Zelle®, see the Zelle® Transfer Service Addendum.

How do I send a digital wire?²

- Sign on to Wells Fargo Online®, go to Transfer & Pay, and select Wire Money to get started.
- Add your recipient, select funding account and amount (along with any additional details required for certain countries).
- Review and send your payment.

You must have a current residence in the United States to send a Digital Wire. Customers living in U.S. territories (American Samoa, Guam, Northern Mariana Islands, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands) or other countries can't send wires online.

How do I send money internationally using my ExpressSend service agreement?

The first remittance sent under each service agreement must be completed in person at a Wells Fargo branch. Customers with an existing checking or savings account may be able to complete their first remittance by calling the Wells Fargo Phone Bank, subject to caller authentication requirements and additional fraud prevention controls. Additional remittances may be completed at a Wells Fargo branch, by calling the Wells Fargo Phone Bank, or through Wells Fargo Online® at wellsfargo.com. ExpressSend is not available on the Wells Fargo Mobile® app. Customers must use a desktop or laptop to conduct online ExpressSend transfers.

Customers cannot set up recurring, scheduled remittance transfers; the customer must always initiate each transfer.
